Lenten Journey

What is a Lenten Journey?

Often at Lent we give up something; chocolate, coffee, TV, you name it. But what does that do for us or anyone else, besides make us cranky? For the Lenten Journey we ask that you instead give out of your abundance to help others.

Pick out a sturdy basket, box or bag and fill it with donations. If you follow the items listing on the calendar on the other side of this sheet you will be donating to four of First Presbyterian Church's mission projects.

Bring your donations to church on During Holy week or any Sunday worship (you don't have to wait for April 13.) There will be someone at the upper driveway door to help you unload your donations. The mission committee will sort the items and deliver them to the appropriate organizations in late April or early May.

If you are not up to collection this many items, you can make a monetary donation. Simply put Lenten Journey on a pew envelope or in the memo field of a check. Someone will do the shopping for you.

If you have an idea for something better to supply remember. The list is only a suggestion and any donation is welcome!
